Amy,
Lydia agrees in this case the requested 45 day extension is reasonable. I'll have the extension approval letter ready for your concurrence on Monday.

Subject: Delta Shipyard Second Info Request

Amy,
Hope the new year is treating you well.
I've received the Agency's second information request concerning the Deans' ability to pay and passed them along.
Most of this information is going to be coming from the Deans' and Dean Services's CPA firm, who are currently slammed with tax prep. Alicia also informed me that Art Stagni, the main accountant for our business at the firm, has been diagnosed with ALS, so he's working less than normal. I'm not sure we can fully respond to these requests in the normal thirty day period.
I believe we currently have until March 9 to respond. If you guys are willing to extend the time until April 25, that will get us past tax season (it's a 45 day extension rolled over until the next business day).
I'd appreciate it if you guys would consider an extension.
As always, I'm available by email or phone to chat if you have any questions or need any more information.

Yours,

Gregory W. Rome
